Y., where he will take charge of a new store, which the company is establishing there. Dwight Cutler, who has been a clerk in the store here, will succeed Mr. Hawley as manager.

Charles Sharkey, the mail carrier, made a find yesterday afternoon, when he picked up a roll of bills on the sidewalk near King's jewelry store. There were fifty dollars in bills and they were returned to the owner a short time afterwards. A man and a lady, whose names were not learned, had passed down the street just before the money was found, and they soon returned, looking for the money, and Mr. Sharkey brought a smile of relief to their faces when he passed them the roll. They gave him a reward.

"Amid the Volcanoes and Earthquake, Ruins of Italy" was the subject upon which Rev. J. Wesley MacCallum delivered a lecture at the First Presbyterian church last evening. The church was nearly filled with people, who listened with interest to the words of one who was on the spot directly after the earthquake, which killed thousands of people and destroyed an immense amount of property. Dr. MacCallum is an interesting speaker and held the attention of his audience with his many explanations and graphic descriptions of ruined Mes-sim. The interest of the talk was enhanced by slides, which were made from pictures taken by the speaker shortly after the disaster.

Pat—Where he was going, Mike? Mike—Bedad, Pat, I'm going to the shamrock social and have the lot of me lot.
